

MyChart Updates

On April 14th, we will begin using an updated version of MyChart. This document outlines some of the changes that will happen in your MyChart account.

We think you will love the new changes.

MyChart is Ending Support for Internet Explorer 11

You will now need to use one of the following supported browsers to get the best MyChart experience:

- Google Chrome
- Mozilla Firefox
- Microsoft Edge

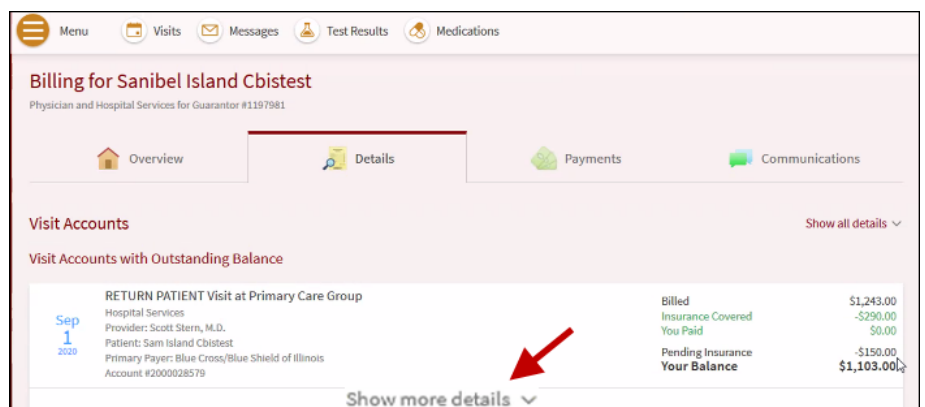

Saved Usernames and Passwords Will Be Reset at Upgrade

- If you previously had your username and password set to be remembered by the system, on April 14th your credentials will be reset.
- You will need to log into MyChart and select the check box in order to have it remember your username and password again.
- Use the Forgot Username or Forgot Password links on the Homepage if you need to reset your username or password.

Benefits Summary Now Appears in MyChart

To improve billing transparency, your payer's benefits summary to the billing details in MyChart now displays. This change helps you know how your insurance is working for you. The summary includes the following:

- The amount billed your insurance
- The amount covered by your insurance
- Your remaining responsibility

MyChart's New Home Page

The new design gives you shortcuts to common activities and updates on important information.

The content is made to fit your personal needs, allows for easier navigation, and provides a more consistent experience with all your healthcare organizations.

All features that are on the MyChart website are now on the app.

Your devices need to be updated to the new version to use these features.

MyChart Updates

Take a Tour

As of April 14th, when you first log in you will see a digital tour to show you around the new MyChart website. You can also take a tour of the new MyChart home page by clicking here.

Shortcuts and Health Feeds

You now have quick and easy access to the 4 activities you use most on the home page.

If you have proxy access to a family member's MyChart account, you will also see their information in the same feed.

Each person's information will be color-coded by person, making it easy to stay on top of everyone's care.

If you have linked your MyChart accounts with other healthcare organizations, you will see the data from those other healthcare organizations in your health feed

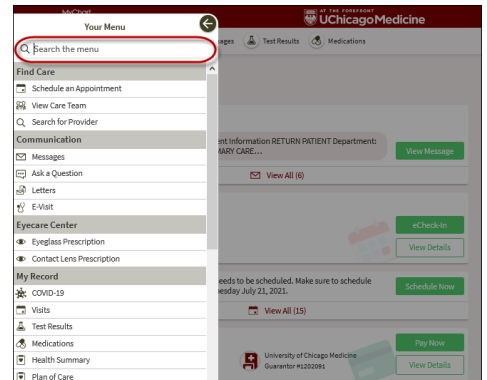

MyChart Updates

Unified Menu

The new menu gives you access to every activity and there is more to find in the shortcuts or the health feed.

Enter what you are looking for in the Search field to find your menu item.

Tip: You can always return to the homepage by clicking on the UChicago Medicine logo.

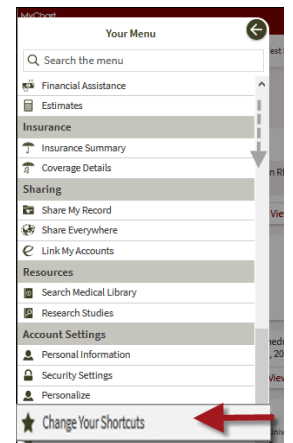

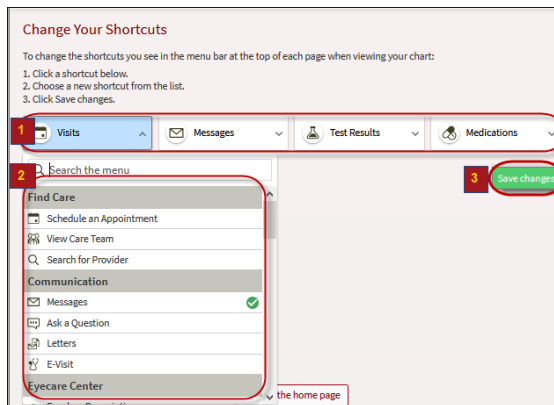

Proxy Account Changes

If you have access to other MyChart accounts, they now are under the Switch menu in the top right corner of the MyChart website. They are no longer separate bubbles across the top of the screen (website) or bottom of the screen (mobile).

Customize Your Own Shortcuts

From the MyChart menu: go to the Account Settings section and select Change Your Shortcuts.

In the MyChart mobile app, go to the Personalize activity under Account Settings and tap the Change Shortcuts link. From there, you can choose any menu option to replace your Shortcut.

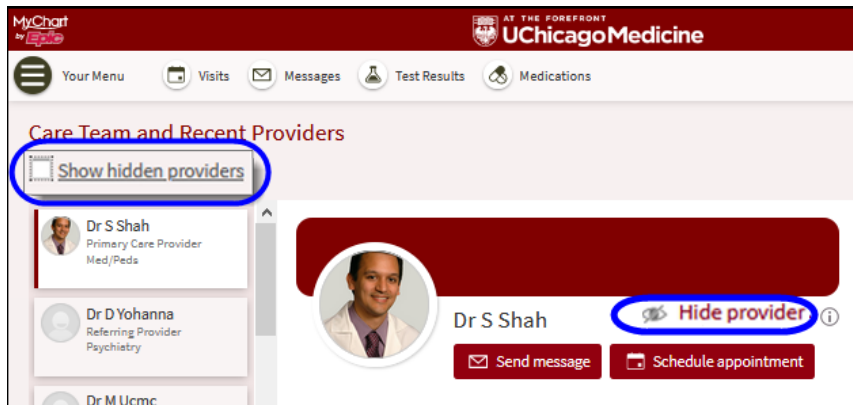

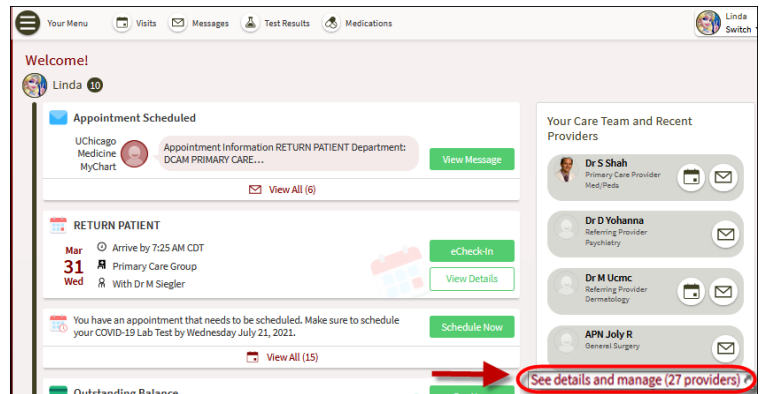

MyChart Updates

Care Team Features

You now have more control over who you see in the Your Care Team section.

You can hide providers you have not seen in a long time.

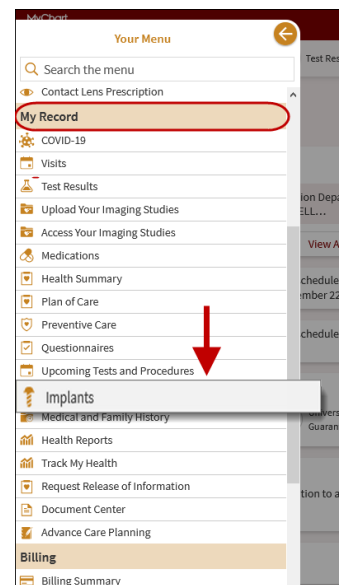

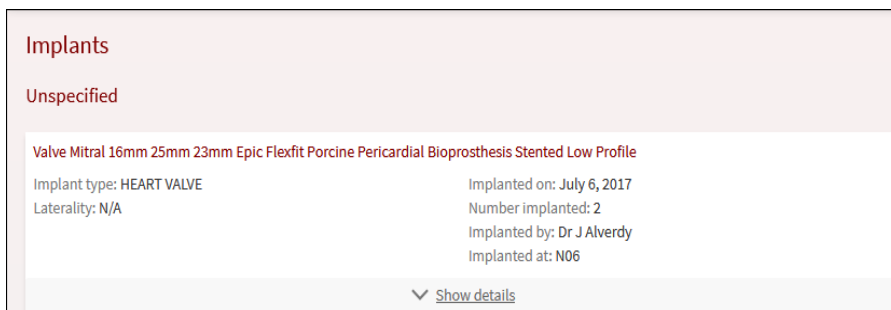

If you have hidden a provider and want to see them again, select the Show hidden providers check box.

Implant Information

Patients can now see information about their implants in the new Implants activity in MyChart.

The Implants activity is found under the My Record section from the MyChart menu.

MyChart Updates

Sexual Orientation and Gender Identity Optional Questionnaire

Now you can share your sexual orientation and gender identity in MyChart by filling out a Sexual Orientation and Gender Identity questionnaire.

You can fill out the questionnaire at any time and in the comfort of your own home.

Find the questionnaire in your custom news feed or in the Explore More For You section at the bottom of your MyChart home page.
